Trash2treasurefl.org

A non-profit organization with a mission to locate clean, re-usable materials (called “clean scrap”) and redistribute them as educational and artistic resources. These items can take on new life in the minds and hands of creative individuals such as teachers, artists and children. A partial list of items that can enhance arts and education include: baskets (including plastic veggie and berry baskets); caps and lids (laundry detergent, food products, glass jar lids); costume jewelry including broken bits and pieces; boxes; paperboard; store shopping bags; scrap fabric; scrap wire including phone wire and jewelry wire; scrap hardware and wood scrap; string, rope and tape; wire hangers including tiny plastic hooks and hangers from packaging; AV products such as CDs, DVD disks, jewel cases and VHS video boxes.

Please call if you have something you think might benefit the center. We will pick up or you may deliver. To find out how to access the cornucopia of materials at Trash to Treasure, please call or visit our web site.
